Course Description

Further study and work in painting.

Prerequisites &/or Co-requisites

Art 351

Objectives of the Course

A beginning level studio course, this class will introduce students to the basics of painting in oil-based mediums. Building upon formal considerations developed from Painting I, this course will expand on paint handling techniques; introduce stretcher building and varnishing; provide an increased confidence and comprehension of painting practice; and allow for an exploration of themes and concepts through the medium of paint.

Assignments and Evaluation

Assessment:	% weighting	Due Date
Mid-term portfolio review	30%	Thursday, February 13
End-of-term Evaluation	50%	Tuesday, April 15
Participation	20%	Throughout the term

Assessment will consist of a review of work produced to mid-term, and a final review of work produced in the second half of the term. Grades for each assignment will be based on the criteria of formal/technical, innovative and expressive considerations, and the degree to which the project has been executed. The review will consider the following: concept/image development; technical/formal development; industry and ambition; resolution of works. Students will be evaluated on the quality and quantity of the work produced over the term, and the technical, expressive or innovative ways that the project has been interpreted. Assigned projects will be discussed and assessed in class critiques, and will focus on how they meet the criteria established, such as the use of form, and the ideas expressed. Students will be expected to articulate their ideas and concerns in critiques and discussions. Evaluation is also based on participation, meaning the degree to which students contribute to discussions and critiques, effort, and attendance.

It is the individual responsibility of each student to make sure all work is completed and submitted as specified. Completion of assignments in a timely manner constitutes a minimum expectation. Any absence from classes and studio involvement, discussions, critique deadlines, or portfolios will be considered less than satisfactory for this course.

Registrar-Scheduled Final Exam

There is no final examination in this course. Marks are based on term work.

Late Assignment Policy

All studio projects will have a group critique and, as such, are expected to be complete for discussion on the respective critique dates. Work not presented for critiques will be subject to a 5% decrease in the grade, per day.

As well, your absence from participation will be considered less than satisfactory for that discussion. In addition, failure to submit mid-term and final portfolios, properly presented and labeled in your studio space, on the listed due dates will result in 5% off of the overall grade for each day after the due date. Work submitted for the deadline MAY subsequently be revised and re-submitted for re-evaluation at term-end. It is anticipated that such work will demonstrate marked improvement and respond to critical assessments that the student receives in writing and/or orally during in-class discussions.

Course Activities

Students will expand their painting through assigned projects, slide presentations, class demonstrations, group critiques and individual tutorials. Over the semester, students will be familiarized with a wide range of historical and contemporary painting practices, including both observational and non-observational approaches. Students will be provided class time to pursue projects, which will also allow for direct feedback. Students should expect, additionally, a minimum of six to eight hours per week for out-of-class project completion, research and other course-related activity. Critiques will be scheduled every 2-3 weeks to encourage a continuous progress within the studio, and to enable peer and instructor feedback.

Grading Method/Grading Scale:

Percentage	Grade	G.P.A.	Grade Definition
96-100	A+	4.0	Outstanding
90-95	A	4.0	Excellent-superior performance, showing comprehensive understanding of subject matter.
85-89	A-	3.7
80-84	B+	3.3
75-79	B	3.0	Good – clearly above average performance with knowledge of subject matter generally complete.
70-74	B-	2.7
65-69	C+	2.3
60-64	C	2.0	Satisfactory – basic understanding of the subject matter.
55-59	C-	1.7
53-54	D+	1.3
50-52	D	1.0	Minimal pass – marginal performance; generally insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject.
0-49	F	0	Fail – unsatisfactory performance or failure to meet course requirements.

Studio Procedures

Students are expected to set up for work prior to class commencing, so that lectures and demonstrations can proceed uninterrupted. These will not be repeated for latecomers. The creation of art can be a messy process and a studio is only workable if everyone cooperates in keeping it clean. Out of respect and consideration for your classmates and other users of the space, it is expected that everyone will participate in keeping the studio clean and tidy. Please also be mindful of fire and safety regulations concerning equipment and furniture.

Additional Information

A list of supplies will be provided at the first class. Each student will have the use of a cabinet for the storage of supplies. Do not leave works in progress on easels at the end of class—all assignments and works in progress must be stored in the painting racks outside of class time. Although every effort is made to ensure the cleanliness of the studio it can be easy for clothes to be damaged. Use of protective wear (such as aprons, smocks, and lab coats) is strongly suggested when using the painting studio. As toxic and hazardous substances are constantly used in the painting studio, students must not eat within the space. Any drinking containers used should have tops or secure lids so they are not accidentally contaminated.

Internet and Electronic Communication Device Information

Cell phones, messaging devices, and headphones MUST be turned off for the duration of the class.

Academic Accommodation

Plagiarism

Visual art projects submitted for course credit must be produced specifically for this class. Students must not submit projects if credit has or will be provided for it in another class. This includes re-worked assignments from previous or concurrent courses, unless permission is provided in writing by the instructor. Additionally, the student is asked to be mindful of using visual sources from the internet, ensuring that appropriate copyright permission is granted, when required.

Lockers

The Art Building lockers are administered by the Students' Union in 251 MacEwan Student Centre. There are various shapes and sizes of lockers for rent. Please write down the barcode numbers (top left of each locker) for the locker shape that you require and bring this list with you to the SU office between 8:30a.m. and 4:30p.m., Monday-Friday. Lockers must be vacated by the end of term.

For more information go to <http://www.su.ucalgary.ca/>

Models

In this class there will be the opportunity to paint from nude models. A student electing not to do so must notify the instructor IN WRITING of his/her concerns.

Portfolios and Assignments

The Department of Art will not assume responsibility for lost or stolen portfolios or course work given to instructors for grading, or for work posted on bulletin boards in the art building.

All unclaimed work will be disposed of two weeks after the end of classes.

Ethics

Whenever you perform research with human participants (i.e., surveys, interviews or observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research.
