Course Description

Continuation of Art 481.

Prerequisites &/or Co-requisites

Art 481

Objectives of the Course

The course will provide students with the opportunity to examine in depth their concepts and work patterns by concentrating upon one or more methodologies within the discipline of sculpture. Media to be investigated can range from clay, plaster, wood, fiber board, concrete, electronic systems, earth, water, air, metals to any combination of the above. Techniques may involve welding, mold making, modelling, casting, carving, construction, etc.

Textbooks and Readings

There are no assigned textbooks. Readings will be assigned throughout the term as required.

Assignments and Evaluation

The student will be expected to engage in four major projects during the semester.

One of the projects will be an installation (of one week duration) in the sculpture gallery. A tutorial/critique will be held each week evaluating each individual installation presentation. Students will also be required to make an oral presentation in class (presented weekly throughout the term). This oral presentation will reference a contemporary artist assigned by the instructor. It is expected that two projects will be completed for midterm assessment by the first scheduled day of class after Reading Week. The final two projects will be assessed on the last day of scheduled class in the term. Each project will be weighed equally to a total of 80%.

All projects must be discussed with the instructor (and be approved) before they are initiated - failure to do so will result in a lesser grade.

20% of the final grade will reflect studio work habits, in-class involvement and contributions to tutorials and critiques (discussing each individual installation) as well as oral presentations.

At specified times during the semester critiques, discussions, slide presentations, visits by artists will be arranged.

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment.

Please hand in your assignments directly to your instructor. If this is not possible, you can use the drop box outside of AB 608. Assignments that are put into the drop box will be date-stamped and placed in the instructor's mailbox.
