There are no incorrect answers, all words are applicable; this exercise is intended to make you reflect and document the attitudes and associations YOU have in this class.
Four questionnaires will be offered, you need three [done as outlined above] in order to receive one grade for this assignment. Please note that missed responses CANNOT be re-done.

Writing
Writing is an important aspect of any intellectual endeavor. In this class you are able to elevate your writing skills. Crucial elements of academic writing are the content, the various aspects you discuss, transitions & paragraphs, structure & clarity, logic& coherence, spelling & grammar, language choice, correct reference format according to the CHICAGO STYLE [footnotes, bibliography], apart from the development of a personal and/or critical voice, conclusion[s], and a certain level of complexity. All written assignments submitted digitally to D2L should begin their text with a cover page providing the following information: student's name and University ID number, type of assignment & choice of topic, possibly a title, name of instructor, course name and number, date you submit the assignment. This cover page is a single page and does not count towards your page number requirement of two full pages of text. Similarly, in case you utilize references, footnotes and a bibliography, present the bibliography on a single page after your text; a longer page count in accordance with footnote length is allowed.

Students are encouraged to utilize the writing support services on the 3rd floor of the TFDL. These include a drop-in service, one-to-one appointments, online assistance, workshops and more.

Students are not required to attain a passing grade in each of the individual assignments, responses, mid-term and final exams in order to have a final passing grade for the course, provided they achieve a cumulative grade of 50% or higher for the course.

Note: It is the student’s responsibility to keep a copy of or any relevant documentation regarding each submitted assignment.

Internet and Electronic Communication Device Information

The use of electronic devices during class is allowed for the purpose of taking notes related to the lecture presentations. But please note that research suggests learners retain much less of the presented material when notes are taken with a computer, compared to written by hand.

Please turn your phone or messaging functions to silent or off.

Electronic recording of classes is forbidden without the consent of the instructor. When recordings are permitted they are solely for the use of the authorized student[s] and may not be shared, reproduced, or transmitted to others, without the written consent of the instructor.

The posting of course materials [e.g., lecture presentations or lectures summaries or exam questions] to third-party websites, such as note-sharing sites, is prohibited.
Lecture presentations, argumentation, presentations and assignment content are the intellectual property of the instructor.

Portfolios and Assignments

The Department of Art will not assume responsibility for lost or stolen portfolios or course work given to instructors for grading, or for work posted on bulletin boards in the art building.

Note - All unclaimed work will be disposed of.

Note - Studio spaces, bulletin boards and display areas need to be cleared 2 weeks after the last day of classes.

Studio Procedures

The creation of art can be a dirty process and a studio is only workable if everyone cooperates in keeping it clean. Out of respect and consideration for your classmates and other users of the space, it is expected that everyone will participate in keeping the studio clean and tidy.

The student accommodation policy can be found at ucalgary.ca/access/accommodations/policy.

Students needing an Accommodation because of a Disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.

Writing/Plagiarism

Writing skills are not exclusive to English courses and, in fact, should cross all disciplines. The University supports the belief that throughout their University careers, students should be taught how to write well so that when they graduate their writing abilities will be far above the minimal standards required at entrance. Consistent with this belief, students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their University courses and, where appropriate, members of faculty can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Support Services can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.

For more information go to http://www.ucalgary.ca/ssc/writing-support or http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-2.html

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. Visual art projects submitted for course credit must be produced by the student specifically for this class. Students must not submit projects if credit has or will be provided for it in another class. This includes re-worked assignments from previous or concurrent courses, unless permission is provided in writing by the instructor. Additionally, the student is asked to be mindful of using visual sources from the internet, ensuring that that material is not derived from any on-line or other available source, and that appropriate copyright permission is granted, when required.
