The traditional territories of the people of the Treaty 7 region in Southern Alberta, which includes the Blackfoot Confederacy (comprising the Siksika, Piikani, and Kainai First Nations), as well as the Tsuut’ina First Nation, and the Stoney Nakoda (including the Chiniki, Bearspaw, and Wesley First Nations). The City of Calgary is also home to Métis Nation of Alberta, Region 3. The University of Calgary is situated on land adjacent to where the Bow River meets the Elbow River, and that the traditional Blackfoot name of this place is “Moh’kins’tsis”, which we now call the City of Calgary.

Course Description
Historical and contemporary studies of indigenous cultural production within the geographic context of the Americas.

Prerequisites and/or Co-requisites
NA

Objectives of the Course
Over the course of the semester, students will become familiar with
1. Indigenous arts on Turtle Island by learning about a number of notable moments and artists important to Indigenous art history.
2. Reading works of art as text and use them to construct and build arguments.
3. Indigenous communities in what is now Canada and the United States.
4. The projects of decolonization, indigenization, and sovereignty as it relates to visual cultural production.
5. Discussing art in the project of colonialism and how Indigenous artists use their practices to critique and make visible violent and marginalizing histories.
6. Considering politics of display, and curatorial methodologies, and the ways in which it influences our reading of artwork.
7. Academic arts writing
Textbooks and Readings
All texts will be available either on the syllabus as links or as pdfs on D2L

Assignments and Evaluation

Enter assignments, due dates AND weights/percentages here.

Participation 15%
Analysis of an artwork 20%
Exhibition Review 25%
Curatorial Proposal 10%
Curatorial Presentation 30%
  (Curatorial Presentation Breakdown:
    Press Release 5%
    Curatorial Statement 10%
    Presentation 25%)

Participation
Students will be marked on participation based on attendance and participation. At the discretion of the instructor, any/all of the following will result in a grade deduction: poor attendance and/or a lack of participation in class activities, a lack of preparedness, an unprofessional approach to presentations/critiques, incomplete homework or failure to meet deadlines disregard for other students or failing to foster a collegial learning environment, an unwillingness to explore, experiment, or challenge one’s self, etc. A rubric will be posted on d2l: 5% punctuality and attendance, 5% preparedness and engagement in class discussion, 5% collegiality and professionalism (including emails)

Analysis of an artwork
Students will complete an analysis of an artwork of their choice by an Indigenous artist from Turtle Island. Artists must identify as Indigenous.
Please use suggested online resources as a guide to find artists you are interested in, although they do not have to be from those resources. Using D’Alleva readings posted online, students will use formal and contextual clues to examine the work. 250 words, double spaced, readable font, at least one citation (Chicago or MLA style).
Submit online. Due January 28

Exhibition Review
Using a list of online exhibitions provided online, students will review an exhibition of contemporary art. Look over examples of exhibition reviews in c Magazine, esse, Canadian Art, etc. to get an idea of the content to cover and the possible tones you might adopt for this assignment. Then, write a 2-page review of this exhibition. 250 words, double spaced, readable font.
Submit online. Due March 11.

Curatorial Proposal
In groups (to be assigned – if you have people who you would like to work with, please email me with your chosen groups) students will propose a curatorial exhibition of Canadian contemporary art.
Students will present a theme and an example of a work or two that will be included in the exhibition.
For examples of exhibition ideas, look at C Magazine, esse, Canadian Art etc. 1 page, double spaced, using Chicago or MLA format if citing artworks and ideas.
Submit one document per group online. Please include names of all group members on document.
Due February 9

Curatorial Exhibition Presentation
From the proposal developed, students will prepare a 15-20min presentation (presented online) outlining their exhibition. Students will prepare as part of their presentation:
A list of at least 10 works included (citations included)
A location choice and blueprint of the show (where each work will go)
A press release detailing where and when the show is – make it appealing to potential visitors! (5%)
A curatorial statement detailing the theme of the exhibition (which visitors would read as they walk into your site) (10%)
Due at time of presentation via email – one per group

*Students are required to complete all assignments to pass the course. Any missed submissions will result in the student failing the course.

*It is not necessary for students to receive a passing grade on any particular component of the course in order to pass the course as a whole.

Writing
The format, organization, and style of writing will be assessed as part of all written assignment.

Registrar Scheduled Final Exam – NO

Note: It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of or any relevant documentation regarding each submitted assignment.

Late Assignment Policy

5% will be removed from assignment grade for every day that the assignment is overdue.

Course Activities

*Please make note of which days lectures/discussions will be held synchronously over zoom. Links to zoom lectures will be provided on D2L. It is expected that students attend synchronous lectures and attendance/participation will count towards student participation grade

*The instructor reserves the right to alter the syllabus during the course of the semester (students will be notified)

Writing and Plagiarism

Writing skills are not exclusive to English courses and, in fact, should cross all disciplines. The University supports the belief that throughout their University careers, students should be taught how to write well so that when they graduate their writing abilities will be far above the minimal standards required at entrance. Consistent with this belief, students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their University courses and, where appropriate, members of faculty can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Support Services can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. Visual art projects submitted for course credit must be produced by the student specifically for this class. Students must not submit projects if credit has or will be provided for it in another class. This includes re-worked assignments from previous or concurrent courses, unless permission is provided in writing by the instructor. Additionally, the student is asked to be mindful of using visual sources from the internet, ensuring that that material is not derived from any on-line or other available source, and that appropriate copyright permission is granted, when required.

Instructor Intellectual Property and Copyright Legislation

Course materials created by the instructor (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the same course section and term may be allowed under fair dealing. Check with the instructor if you have any questions about sharing materials with classmates.

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (https://ucalgary.ca/legal-services/sites/default/files/teams/1/Policies-Acceptable-Use-of-Material-Protected-by-Copyright-Policy.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks, etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.
