Course Description
Introductory course in observational and representational drawing. Creative exploration includes mark-making, hand-eye co-ordination, proportions, perspective, line, texture, figure-ground relationships and pictorial composition in charcoal. These will be addressed in the context of problem-solving, visual fluency and conceptual development.
3 units (3-3)

Prerequisites and/or Co-requisites
none

Objectives of the Course
This course is designed to explore various technical skills in drawing in conjunction with a theme on consumerism.

Students will spend 60% of the in-class time focused on weekly technical training in charcoal on still-life’s and products. 40% of in class time is focused on exploring various aspects art of criticism in two group- critiques, and ways of problem solving in visual art language in relation to thematic assignments (on consumerism). There are also opportunities to read art exhibitions to see examples of art theory in practice.

Upon satisfactory completion of the course the student will have a basic knowledge of conceptualization. Students will learn to abstract an idea in the visual language and apply the idea through several cohesive steps in the context of a thematic assignment.
Textbooks and Readings

There are two required texts relating to the course and the thematic assignments. Their digital links will be available to you in the second week of the class; please check the details in D2L.

1. Ways of Seeing by John Berger (easy read)
2. No Logo by Naomi Klein (easy read)

Portfolios and Assignments
The Department of Art will not assume responsibility for lost or stolen portfolios or course work given to instructors for grading.

Studio Procedures
Art 241 is following the 'blended' format. The course delivery is crucial in supporting students' safety and wellbeing.

Students will have to respect Covid-19 specific guidelines in two labs AB 743 and AB 710 and AB building. These include circulation patterns, user policy, distancing and keeping the lab space clean and tidy.

In addition, students and instructors are expected to follow physical distancing regulations in order to comply with the University’s Covid-19 Re-Entry Protocols. For more information, please refer to the following website.

Academic Accommodations

The student accommodation policy can be found at https://ucalgary.ca/student-services/access/prospective-students/academic-accommodations.

Students needing an Accommodation because of a Disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities https://ucalgary.ca/legal-services/sites/default/files/teams/1/Policies-Accommodation-for-Students-with-Disabilities-Procedure.pdf

Students needing an Accommodation based on a Protected Ground other than Disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to the course instructor.

Academic Standing

Writing and Plagiarism
Writing skills are not exclusive to English courses and, in fact, should cross all disciplines. The University supports the belief that throughout their University careers, students should be taught how to write well so that when they graduate their writing abilities will be far above the minimal standards required at entrance. Consistent with this belief, students are expected to do a substantial amount of writing in their University courses and, where appropriate, members of faculty can and should use writing and the grading thereof as a factor in the evaluation of student work. The services provided by the Writing Support Services can be utilized by all undergraduate and graduate students who feel they require further assistance.

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university. Visual art projects submitted for course credit must be produced by the student specifically for this class. Students must not submit projects if credit has or will be provided for it in another class. This includes re-worked assignments from previous or concurrent courses, unless permission is provided in writing by the instructor. Additionally, the student is asked to be mindful of using visual sources from the internet, ensuring that that material is not derived from any on-line or other available source, and that appropriate copyright permission is granted, when required.

Instructor Intellectual Property and Copyright Legislation
Course materials created by the instructor (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the instructor. These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the instructor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the same course section and term may be allowed under fair dealing. Check with the instructor if you have any questions about sharing materials with classmates.

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (https://ucalgary.ca/legal-services/sites/default/files/teams/1/Policies-Acceptable-Use-of-Material-Protected-by-Copyright-Policy.pdf) and requirements of the copyright act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks, etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.
